Reconstructed.

An incident occurred in a Buffalo [N. Y.] varieties theatre which was not in the bill, and which, even in that institution of miscellaneous amusement, was novel and startling. An "editorial excursion" of six Misthe benefit of the Catholic church sissippi editors had been traveling North and wound up in Buffalo. With a natural desire to see all that was to be seen they visited the theater and took seats in the parquette. When the curtain fell for the One of the triplets, the boy, given last time the manager stepped forward and "briarwoods," "corn cobs," "meersissippi editors" a call to which the audience heartily responded. A response hal to be made, and Col. Stackhouse of the Haziehurst Copiahan was called on to make it. He took the stage and made one of the most original speeches, we take it, ever hear! in that queer place. After comparing himself and his friends to the queen of She ba on a visit to Solomon's dominions, he said "Fellow-citizens of Buffilo, we assure you that this invasion of ours is altogether harmless in its object. We are not spying we are much obliged to the few bloodye shirt gentlemen among you, who, for some Public school opened this morning inscrutable purpose Providence may have year of jubilee in this American family, but we have had enough of war-rather too much of it. ### An Elaborate Suicide.

George G. Howard, a student of Monmouth scademy, committed suicide on the 31st ult. by shooting himself. He took off a part of his clothing and hung it on a tree, laying aside also his knife and wallet. ### Only a Clay Pipe.

Twenty thousand boxes, containing over a million clay pipes, are pipes are made in Glasgow, Scotland, and chiefly by one firm, W. The Davidsons of Glasgow are also extensive pipe

For the last three or four months in White's manufactory, no pipes have been made; consequently, there is something like a corner in the goods, but as there is a great abundance on hand, besides any quantity schaums," etc., etc., there will be no absolute suffering for some time. The pipe most in favor in Engiand is the one known as the "Yard of Clay;" it is preeminently the tavern pipe, and is the invariable accompaniment of the mug of ale. Though not quite a yard long, it is of respectable dimensions, and is therefore of very frail existence. The most famous of clar pipes, however, and by far the most popular, is the "T. D." so called from having these letters stamped on the bowl. There are made of good clay, and it is very rare to find one that won't "Large Evin Derby" and the "Large Irish,"by enough for a whole family and Home Rule, "and are quite ornamental and formidable looking dhu-
